Brian Foley, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee
Florida Coastal School of Law, 8787 Baypine Road
Jacksonville FL, 32256

The Full time and Adjunct Faculty positions maintain responsibilities within the Lawyering Process program, the school’s first year legal research, analysis, and writing courses that focus on preparing students for practice. The program is a two-semester, six-credit, graded curriculum comprised of Lawyering Process I which focuses on objective legal analysis, research/writing, and client interviewing/counseling skills, and Lawyering Process II which focuses on trial-level written and oral advocacy as well as negotiation and mediation skills. Women, members of minority groups, and others whose background and experience will contribute to the diversity of our faculty and our goal of multicultural competence in our academic program are encouraged to apply.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:
- Teaching sections of approximately 20 (if full-time) or 16 (if adjunct) students.
- Conducting individual conferences with students.
- Completing extensive evaluations of student work.

Education & Experience Requirements:
- Juris Doctorate degree required with excellent academic credentials.
- Minimum of 2 – 3 years of legal practice experience required.
- Active Bar membership status required (no state preference).
- Demonstrated teaching experience with a genuine interest in legal writing pedagogy and a long-term interest in teaching in the legal writing discipline highly preferred.

Job Knowledge, Skills & Abilities:
- Understanding the process of the law, including the process of legal writing and the legal system
- Proficiency in paper and electronic research and mastery of legal citation
- Possess a professional, rigorous, respectful, supportive, energetic and reliable commitment to excellence in teaching and student mentoring.
- Must relate well to students, have strong interpersonal skills, and the ability to communicate professionally through both verbal and written means.
- Ability to work collaboratively and collegially with faculty, staff, students, and administrators from diverse backgrounds.
- Ability and desire to comprehend and work for the Florida Coastal School of Law’s unique philosophy, strategic plan, goals, and doctrine.

Coastal Law is an equal opportunity employer.
